Whose Was The Misrepresentation?

Some weeks ago THE FRANK PAPER published an editorial entitled: "Failure of the Cash System." A few days later the Calgary Herald published a communication written by H. E. Lyon taking the editor to task for that editorial. In the communication Mr. Lyon declared that it was "unanimously conceded that the cash system was a complete success," and further on: "It is rather hard luck to have a newspaper in The Pass continually misrepresenting things as a common practice with The Frank Paper."

In view of the fact that the merchants of The Pass have all abandoned the cash system and gone back to the credit system except Lyon who says he is going out of business, the above is interesting and should be especially so to the Calgary Herald which lent itself to the furtherance of Lyon's unworthy piece of business.

Wonder now who will be adjudged guilty of the worst misrepresentation.

The scenes witnessed on the streets of Frank on the Monday following the last pay day would seem to suggest the wisdom of abolishing the holiday following pay day which has been in practice for some time. It has been years since the people of the town have witnessed so much disorderliness from too much drinking. The circumstance of the police being obliged to use strenuous means of enforcing their authority in the effort to preserve order, the arrest of promiscuous numbers of other unfortunates and numerous other incidents that cannot but be deplored by everyone were all, no doubt, the fruits of a holiday with pockets full of money when the temptation to drink was too great. Had there been no holiday we doubt very much that there would have been anything like the amount of drinking. Some may argue that it is the business of nobody but the men who made the holiday and in a sense perhaps that is true but it is the citizen's right to give good counsel when he sees a friend or even an acquaintance doing himself an injury and especially is it the prerogative of a newspaper to counsel for the good of the community. It is only in this aspect of the case that we refer to the matter at all. But we do believe there are in this month, families who will feel the need of the $25 to $50 that was squandered by the heads of those families and who would not have dreamt of throwing that money away had it not been for the temptation of the opportunity of the holiday put in their way. Would it not be the part of wisdom to remind the vote by which the holiday was created?

The season has arrived when special vigilance on the part of the police will be required to prevent violations of the game law which this year prohibits absolutely the killing of game birds, that is, the various kinds of grouse, the only game birds found in this district. Any day men may be seen hitting for the hills with guns and as there is nothing but grouse in this section they can have but one purpose, that is, to violate the law. Sergeant Havelock, head of the police in The Pass, promises to deal with all the misery sanctioned by the law to persons apprehended in violation of the game act and as Sergeant Havelock has already established a reputation for being a good deal of a martinet in the line of duty, it will be well for the man he catches carrying a gun to be able to prove very clearly that he has not been shooting birds. The regulations under the new game law will be found on another page of this issue.

The Sanitarium is having a tremendous run these days. For some time the house has been full to overflowing with patients, some of whom came from long distances to take the baths.

The police succeeded Saturday in locating Harry Nychuk, the man who was the leader in the disturbance in which Constable Martin came near being roughly handled some days ago. Nychuk was sentenced to six months at Maled.

General Manager S. M. Moore of the coal company, who went to Montana last week in search of miners, returned Sunday. He states that Montana is far worse off for men than this country and that every sort of industry is hampered for want of help. Mr. Moore succeeded in securing quite a number of good miners from among men who had worked for him in Montana.

The police of The Pass had their annual pistol practice for the department trophy, the crossed revolvers, Saturday and Tuesday. The qualifying shoot was held Saturday and the final Tuesday. Some good shooting was done by all the members of the force in The Pass but none succeeded in capturing the trophy which requires a score of 300. Constable Cory of Coleman made the best score with 277.

J. R. Wallace of the Fernie Free Press was a visitor to Frank Tuesday. Mr. Wallace was here on business in connection with the publication of an elaborate illustrated book of the Crows Nest Pass which the Free Press intends to put out in December. It is to be entitled The Crows Nest Pass Illustrated and is to present the entire pass both pictorially and in a descriptive way. The work will be issued jointly by the Free Press and The Frank Paper.

The duck season opened Friday and as far as local sportsmen are concerned, the date, the 23d, seems to have been a hoodoo for it was pretty nearly a case of skidoo for those who went from The Pass for the shooting. The contingent consisted of A. V. Lang, T. B. Martin, R. Steeves, E. Morison and Capt. W. A. Beebe. They encountered all kinds of bad weather and had two rigs break down, the result being that they got very few ducks.

A mud slide at The Loop delayed traffic to some extent Tuesday.

R. and A. McLean, relatives of Mrs. R. Steeves from Manitoba, visited with Mrs. Steeves the first of the week.

The latest issue of the Alberta Gazette contains the appointment of Alex Cameron of Coleman as commissioner for taking affidavits.

Jim Tarabull returned this week from Butte, Montana, where he has been for some time. The old timers can't keep away from Frank.

Jack McDonald of the Union hotel was summoned before the police magistrate last week on a charge of refusing to admit an officer when called upon and was held for trial at McLeod at the next session of court, in bonds of $1000 which he furnished. Mr. McDonald admits having walked away when Policeman Martin called on him to assist in an arrest but claims that as there were other McDonalds near by he had no means of knowing he was the person called on.

The arbitration committee provided for in the new agreement between the operators and the U.M.W.A. for this district, met at Banff last week. The committee is a permanent one and is composed of three operators and three union representatives. Its purpose is to consider all differences that may arise through different interpretations that may be put upon the various clauses of the agreement. It is reported that all unsettled questions were decided amicably including that of the back haul system which recently caused friction at Lillie. It was decided to continue the system.

As it appears that the fire alarms which it has been arranged between the village and the coal company shall be blown by the mine whistle in case of fire have not become generally known, the code and signals is given herewith: In case case of a person discovering a fire, he is supposed to run to the alarm box on the light pole at the Frank hotel corner and breaking the glass, push the button. If the fire is around town, the button must be pushed, one long and three short rings and the engineer will blow the same signal. Therefore, when you hear the mine whistle blow, one long and three short whistles, you may know there is a fire in the town proper. If the fire is at the tipple, the signal is one long and four short rings of the electric alarm and the same number of blows of the whistle. If fire occurs at the mine the alarm will be one long and two short whistles. All citizens should find it in their own interest to know this code.

A baby boy was born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Al Manuel of the Frank hotel.

Miss McIntyre will continue in the millinery business in Coleman during the coming fall and winter seasons. Watch for her announcement of opening days later.

School opened Monday for the new school year with Miss Lord in charge. Through a misunderstanding, as to the date of opening, the second teacher has not arrived but will take charge of her department next week.
